CLOSING EXERCISES AT MT. ZION.
Interesting Exercises by the Pupils of the School--Scholarly Address of Prof. Rembert.
The closing exercises of the Mt. Zion Institute were held at the school building Friday morning. The day was an ideal one for such exercises and the attendance was unusually large. The exercises passed off most pleasantly in every way and were greatly enjoyed. The program as carried out is given in full below.
On every hand there were kind expressions of the essays by three of the girls of the graduating class, both as to the composition and the manner of their delivery. The boys in their orations acquitted themselves well, all speaking most highly of the wonderful self-control that Ben Heyward showed in the delivery of his. When the name of Miss Annie Sitgreaves was announced as the first honor graduate, it brought forth a round of applause from her fellow students. Miss Joe Ketchin came in for second honors. Supt. Baker in delivering the certificates to the graduating class was most happy in his remarks which were well chosen and were especially appropriate.
The instrumental features by the pupils of the music department made a most pleasing variation in the program. Perhaps no feature added more to the enjoyment of the audience than the catchy songs by the little children of the primary department.
What would have been a pleasing feature of the exercises of this closing day was the acceptance of the Witherow memorial tablet by Capt. H. A. Gaillard who came for that purpose but had to leave on account of being too unwell to remain throughout the exercises. The exercise will be held at a later time.
PROFESSOR REMBERT'S ADDRESS.
The feature of the day was the address by Prof. A. G. Rembert of Wofford College. It was introduced with most appropriate remarks in regard to the part Winnsboro has played in the educational history of South Carolina, with beautiful tributes to those illustrious professors Hudson, Davis, and Witherow. The subject of Professor Rembert's scholarly address was the study of the pre-Shakespearean women as revealed in various places. It showed an intimate knowledge of the subject on the part of the distinguished speaker and contained many valuable suggestions for a more intelligent study and appreciation of the world's greatest poet, William Shakespeare. It was also a tribute to the nobility of true womanhood as revealed in the home in which sphere the world's true heroines are found. The address was not only scholarly but inspiring and was listened to throughout with remarkably close attention.

Up-to-Date Milling Plant.
A few days ago we were at Ridgeway and while there spent a short while at Mr. Meares' mill. Mr. Meares has quite a complete milling outfit, having purchased the one that was here at Winnsboro. He has, however, added many improvements. He makes a very high grade of flour and turns out meal that is far superior to that shipped in. For this meal he finds a ready sale at his own home market and also in neighboring towns. Then, too, he makes first class home ground hominy which is much better than pearl grits. The plant is in charge of Mr. J. M. Pagan, who is proving himself a first class miller. For good flour, meal or hominy one can do no better than to get the fine products turned out by Mr. Meares.
Stylish Summer Millinery.
The time for real summer millinery is here and we are ready to supply your every demand in this line. Our millinery department is kept right up to date all the while. Halbert Johnson plead guilty of manslaughter and was given a sentence of five years.

Sunday School Picnic.
There will be a Sunday school picnic at Flat Rock Friday, June 16, in which all the Sunday schools of the town will take part. The following committee is in charge of the arrangements for that day: Messrs. W. R. Rabb, Jas. M. Smith, H. E. Ketchin, and J. Frank Fooshe. It is hoped to make a most pleasant day.
J. W. Seigler calls attention to screen doors and ice cream churns, two necessary luxuries. Don't be without them.

Promptly Answered.
The small ad. in these columns for a farm near Winnsboro was promptly answered soon after the papers were put into the office. It never happens that any of these small want ads. fail to be answered. This is a strong argument for having your advertisement in the News and Herald. If you have anything to sell or buy, advertise it. It pays to advertise.

W. C. Boyd has just received another shipment of Wiley's candies in 1, 1, and 2 lb. boxes; also a fresh shipment of Block's candies in bulk. To Boyd's for candy.

Prizes It Highly.
Mr. Thomas Lyles of Midway, Ia., is sending in his renewal to the News and Herald says: "I enclose check for one year's subscription to your valuable paper. I have been a reader since the 50's when a school boy at Mt. Zion and prize it highly."
We appreciate this kind expression from one who has been a reader of his native county paper for more than half a century.
